"The "Spectator" makes the following remurks on the Presidential Ellection. General M'Clellan has accepted the nomination of the Chicago Convention, but in terms which pledge him as irrevocably as Mr. Lincoln to the preservation of the Union at all hazards. "The existence of more than one Goverment," he save, "over the region which once owned our flag is incompatible with the peace, the power, and the happiness of the people." He adds—very significan-tly to those who have studied the history of those Northern statesmen who have been the tools of the South-"The Union was originally formed for the exercise of a spirit of conciliation and compromise

To restore and preserve it, the same spirit must pre vail in our councils and in the hearts of the people. In other words, General M. Clellan is as much of a Unionist at all hazards to-Mr. Lincoln; but his method for securing Union is the old one .- prostration before the Bouth. The Bultimore platform pledges Mr. Lincoln to doubl in his power to aproof for ever the cause of war-slavery; General M'Clellan is self-pledged to offer any sop t the South it will necept.
